VFF Elvis is a real rock star when it comes to owning his own style and personality, while offering an elite genetic breeding piece. This Beefmaster Advancer sire is the culmination of seeking out some of the most sought-after Angus performance genetics and blending that with the proven consistency and carcass traits of CJ's Motown. Study the super freaky front end and massive hip structure presented by

Elvis. Then stare at the outstanding EPD performance offered with a top 15% $T and top 3% $M index. Additionally, look at the ultra-low birth weight coming from both parents and the high carcass merit offered in a scurred polled package. Make your next calf crop unique and famous with VFF Elvis.
