From stellar looks to mass and power, both Magnifico and Screamin Queen bring to the table the rare combination of both structural perfection and proven performance. A brief reference to the cow family lines will adamantly show that combining Bengal Baby with Diamond Maiden will give one all the maternal power needed to ensure a long line of donors to come. On the performance side, the resulting progeny of this mating will feature a Top 30% REA EPD, Top 35% $T index and of course, Top 10 $M index values, all with the high likelihood of being POLLED.
